International Picnic Day

We celebrated International Picnic Day with a fun-filled picnic at Playtime! Children enjoyed eating together outdoors, playing games, and making wonderful memories with their friends. It was great opportunity to encourage social connections, and an appreciation for the outdoors while having lots of fun!

Process over Product

In early childhood, the magic isn't in the finished artwork. It's in the creating. Exploring, experimenting, making choices and expressing ideas are where the real learning happens. When we value the process over the product, children build confidence, creativity and problem-solving skills while discovering that there is no "right" way to create.
Sometimes the journey is the masterpiece.

Upcoming Events & Programs Calendar

Here is a detailed look at our upcoming schedule. We invite you to join us for learning, fellowship, and service.

JULY 30 — International Friendship Day

JULY 24 — National Pyjama Day

There's something special about gathering around a campfire with friends, sharing stories, laughter and toasting marshmallows together.
Experiences like these create opportunities for children to build connections, develop social skills, take managed risks and create lasting memories in a relaxed and meaningful environment.
A simple afternoon, a warm fire, and lots of happy smiles.

International Mud Day

There was plenty of laughter, splashing, squelching, and muddy fun at Playtime as our children and educators celebrated International Mud Day together!

From muddy hands to happy faces, everyone embraced the mess and discovered the joy that comes from connecting with nature through play. Mud play is so much more than getting dirty. It encourages creativity, problem-solving, sensory exploration, and imaginative play while supporting children's confidence, resilience, and wellbeing. For adults, joining in the fun strengthens relationships, creates meaningful shared experiences, and reminds us of the simple joy of being present in the moment.

Mud Day was a wonderful reminder that some of the best learning happens when we step outside, get our hands dirty, and embrace the mess together.

Happy International Mud Day!
